BODY OF GIRL WASHED ASHORE

Rena Carboneau, Drowned Sunday, Came Ashore at Hampton Beach—Autopsy and Investigation is Probable.

The body of a young woman, afterwards identified as Miss Rena Carboneau, was washed ashore at Hampton Beach, on Tuesday afternoon, shortly after one o'clock. It came ashore in front of the Beach cottage, and it was quickly discovered and taken to a place of safety, and the authorities of Hampton notified.

Medical Referee A. J. Lance of this city was called and pending his arrival the body was taken to the town tomb. The medical referee, along with Sheriff Ceylon Spiney, arrived at Hampton before six o'clock and made an investigation.

There are circumstances connected with the case which may be suspicious, and Medical Referee Lance gave his opinion, to County Solicitor Batchelder, that an autopsy should be performed, and the solicitor may order it done today.

If the girl was drowned in Taylor river, as supposed, the body since that time has floated down into Hampton river to its mouth a distance of two or three miles and out to sea.

From the entrance of the river to where the body came ashore Tuesday afternoon, is at least a mile to the east. There has been a heavy run of tide for the past week or more and this might account for the distance the body had traveled, and also for the fact that the body was washed up so soon after drowning.

No trace of the body of young Flanders has been found. He had been keeping company with Miss Carboneau for some time and it is said were shortly to be married. There was nothing about the body of the girl to indicate foul play.

KATHERINE D. PERRY

Schooner Released by Owners Filing Bond for Possible Indemnity

The schooner Katherine D. Perry has been released from the custody of the United States marshal and the keeper discharged. The owners on Tuesday filed with the United States court a satisfactory bond for indemnity in case she should be found in the blame for the recent collision with the Pollock Rips lightship in a storm. The Perry was tied up at the North End docks two days under libel.

Smelts were plentiful about the city on Tuesday, but still bringing from 18 to 22 cents a pound.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS FOR KITTERY

Will Include the Lighting of the Big Bridge

Wires are to Cross the River on the Bridge with Cable at the Draw

The Herald's long fight for the lighting of the big bridge is won.

The Rockingham Light and Power company and the Boston and Maine railroad have arranged for the carrying of a light and power line across the bridge to Kittery. In connection with that line nine are lights will be installed for the illuminating of the bridge.

The proposition to carry electricity to Kittery has been under consideration for some time, and it was the first intention to do it by a cable under the Piscataqua river.

Application has been made to Washington for a permit to lay an electric cable under the draw in the bridge and permission is expected very soon.

weeks to come, said Frank E. Seagrave, the Providence astronomer, last night.

Mr. Seagrave had completed his computations of the orbit of the new comet and from the results finds that the curve of the orbit from the data obtainable now approximates a parabola very closely, in which event the comet will never return to this system, but will flash interminably off through the heavens.

The storm of last night made it impossible for any of the Providence astronomers to take observations.

Prof. Winslow Upton of Brown University has also made some calculations upon the position of the new comet, based upon the orbit tables by Prof. Kobold of Kiel, Germany. According to these calculations the comet was nearest to the sun on Jan. 17, when it was distant only about 4,000,000 miles.

It is going away from the earth and sun and at the end of the month its distance from the earth will be 169,000,000 miles. It will be visible to the naked eye in the west after sunset for about two weeks, growing fainter each evening.

At the end of the month it will be one-fifth as bright as on Jan. 23. It is moving toward the north very rapidly and will be 50 degrees north of the equator in April.

While the comet cannot be seen with the naked eye after the first few days of February, it will be followed with the telescope for several months.

HALL DENIES CRIME

Says He Didn't Kill Girl

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 26.—James E. Hall, arrived last night from the naval prison at Portsmouth, N. H. in custody of Sheriff Gillette.

This morning he was taken to Holy Cross cemetery and denied ever being there and also said that this is the first time that he was ever in Rochester and that he never saw the Schumacher girl whose murder he had confessed while at Portsmouth.

The officials claim to have evidence to connect him with the crime despite that he has backed out of his confession.

EVENTS OF ELIOT

More Summer Cottages to be Established

Church Circle's Annual Meeting to Be in Portsmouth

Eliot, Me., Jan. 26.

The Christian Endeavor choir had its rehearsal on Tuesday evening at the parsonage, being entertained by Rev. and Mrs. Edgar T. Pitts. A nice treat was served. This choir sings at the Congregational Sunday services.

It is understood that the Dover and South Berwick cottage colony on the river bank in the upper part of the town will have several additions next summer.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Circle of the South Eliot Advent Christian church will be held in Portsmouth on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Frank A. Spiney on Linden street.

Deacon Wallace E. Dixon reports a hatch of eighty chicks in his incubator from 146 eggs, the fluffy little fellows coming out on Tuesday. The original setting was 146 eggs of which twenty-one were removed after the first examination. He considers it a good hatch for January.

Mrs. Laureston Gould is seriously ill.

CASE NEEDS INVESTIGATION

Many people believe that the case of the young girl who was supposed to be drowned in the Taylor river at Hampton should be thoroughly investigated by the county authorities.

Much will depend on the finding of the body of the young man.

THE WEATHER

THE FIFTEEN DAYS' LEAVE

Striving to Keep it for the United States Mechanics

Boston, Jan. 26.—George L. Cain, who represents the National league of government employees, is striving hard to obtain a reversal of the decision of Solicitor General Bowers which would take away the fifteen days leave of absence to employees in mechanical departments of the government.

If the decision by Mr. Bowers holds it means no summer vacation for these men.

No doubt congress intended that such vacations should be granted, but the wording of the law appears to be very faulty and Bowers declares no other decision is possible than the one he has reached.

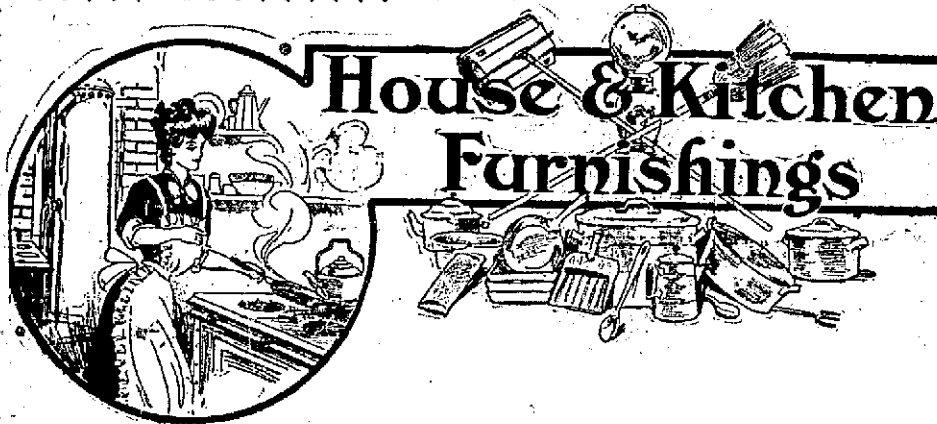

It yet remains to be affirmed by the attorney general, and him Cain has been interviewing.

Cain even has taken the matter to President Taft who gave him a letter to Mr. Wickorsham.

THE COMET

Is Going Away from the Earth Very Rapidly

The big schooner Katherine D. Perry, now at the coal docks in Port-mouth, recently gained no little celebrity by completely dismantling Pollock Rip Lightship in the height of a fierce N. E. snow storm, which rendered the Perry practically unmanageable. She is now bottled, and a keoper has been placed on board, though it is difficult to understand what blame can be attached to skippers or crew under the circumstances.

FROM EXETER

A Horse Case in Superior Court

Change in Trolley Car Mail Service

Exeter, Jan. 25.—Superior court came in at ten o'clock Tuesday morning, and immediately the case of John Cashman, a real estate owner and business man of Haverhill, Mass., against Howard F. Chase, a local teamster, was begun. The action is based on the non-payment of a note which the defendant conveyed to Christopher F. Tattersall, a Haverhill, Mass., horse dealer. The defendant alleges that a horse bought was unsound when purchased, and soon lost flesh and became practically unfit for service.

Mr. Chase gave to Mr. Tattersall a note for $125 in payment for the horse. It was alleged a fraudulent sale, and the payment of the note is thus contested. There were several witnesses, including several prominent Haverhill people, and the examination of these required most of the morning session. The foreman of the jury is Frank Brown of Hampton. The attorneys engaged are Scott Peters district attorney of Haverhill, Mass., and Judge H. A. Shute of Exeter for the plaintiff and Eastman, Scammon and Gardner of Exeter for the defendant. Mr. Scammon taking the active part. The case went to the jury at 4.30 in the afternoon.

The second night of the Foresters fair Tuesday evening proved as interesting and as well attended as the first. The entertainment part was entirely changed, and this evening included selections by George H. Cutler of Boston, singing humorist; child dialect entertainment by Miss Gladys Sprague of Boston, and the piano selections by Arnold H. Spence, also of Boston. Excellent music was rendered by the Swamscott orchestra, which is to give a concert and also to play for the dancing tonight.

Col. Fred W. Sanborn and Alvin H. Foss, who has recently been appointed adjutant on the staff of Colonel Sanborn, Tuesday evening went to Dover, where they inspected the company of U. R. K. P. of that city.

It is now assured that the mail car over the Exeter, Hampton and Amesbury street railway line which carries the mail from here to Amesbury, Mass., and also supplied the towns of Hampton, Hampton Falls, Seabrook and Smithtown, is to be taken off on Feb. 1. The mail service is, however, not to be impaired by the change as a contract has been made by the superintendent of the line and the government to convey the mail over the same route by the regular cars.

Pouches will be taken on the cars here for the offices of the towns of Hampton, Hampton Falls, Seabrook and Smithtown, and also Amesbury thus supplying the rural routes a heretofore.

There is to be a public raising up of the officers of the Wabanowwot tribe of Red Men at the town hall on the third sleep, snow moon, Feb. 3. The work is to be done by District Deputy Channery B. Hoyt and suite of Portsmouth.

George S. Cobb camp, Sons of Veterans, is planning for appropriate exercises on Union Defenders' day, Feb. 12.

The following are the new officers: Fannie Kennedy, warden; Maude Royce, vice warden; David Miles, corresponding secretary; J. W. Field, treasurer; Charles D. Boyers, financial secretary; Lizzie Towle, guard.

ANKLE WAS BROKEN

Joseph B. Tripp Was Injured by a Trolley Car

Kennebunk, Jan. 26.—Joseph B. Tripp, of West Kennebunk, was struck by an Atlantic Shore Line car at West Kennebunk Tuesday afternoon, the accident happening on a bridge which goes over the Boston and Maine railroad. It occurred about 1 o'clock. It is stated that he was standing near the tracks of the trolley company watching an approaching train on the steam road and failed to notice the trolley car as it approached from the direction of Kennebunk.

Tripp was so near that when he stepped, the steps of the car struck him and a broken ankle resulted. A surgeon was summoned and the man was taken to his home.

GRESHAM DROPS FISKE

Cutter Reports Abandoning Schooner Owing to Heavy Gale

Boston, Jan. 26.—Unable to make headway against the strong tide and an easterly gale, the revenue cutter Gresham was compelled last night to drop the tow line of the derelict schooner Henry D. Fiske which she pulled up Monday 40 miles east of Nantucket Island.

A wireless dispatch from Capt. Liberoth of the Gresham received by way of Sausconet says that she was driven with her tow on Nantucket shoals and that the schooner stuck amid the breakers and had to be abandoned at 6.30.

The schooner was reported by the steamer Cyonic as a menace to navigation several days ago and on Monday the revenue cutter located the capsized vessel off Nantucket South shoals lightship and took her in tow.

Slow progress was made, and on Tuesday afternoon the Gresham sent a wireless appeal for a tug to assist her, having made but 40 mile in less than 30 hours, but before assistance arrived she was forced to abandon the derelict in Nantucket shoal. The tug Underwriter was sent out from this city in response to the appeal from the Gresham.

ASKS 10,000 DAMAGES

Whitney Charges Ex-Mayor With Breach of Faith

Concord, Jan. 26.—A session of the United States circuit court, with Judge Francis Lowell of Boston presiding, is in progress here to hear the case by jury of Wilbur N. Whitney of South Ashburnham, Mass., against ex-Mayor Nathaniel E. Martin, charging breach of faith with a client and demanding $10,000 damages.

The plaintiff alleges that Atty. Martin acted in the interests of W. N. Dunn of Halifax, N. S., while ostensibly representing Whitney in the sale of a copper smelting company.

S. H. Hamilton of Boston appears for the plaintiff and Henry F. Rollis for the defendant.

There is much popular interest in the case and the courtroom was well filled all Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Whitney is well known here as representing the company that controls the convict labor contract at the New Hampshire state prison.

TARIFF TANGLE GROWS SERIOUS

Issue Is Being Forced by the German Government

ITS DEFIANT ULTIMATUM

Will Insist on Applying General Tariff to American Exports Unless We Decide at Once Upon Receiving German Products Under Minimum Rates—Cattle Question a Loaded One as a Political Proposition

Washington, Jan. 26.—Germany is playing a desperate game to try to force the hand of the United States in the matter of the tariff controversy. She has made peremptory demand that the United States decide this week whether German imports shall be received here under the minimum tariff, under threat to apply her general tariff to American exports after Feb. 7.

This is the real situation of the great controversy. The United States has been misrepresented as holding out exclusively on the cattle question and making the admission of live cattle to Germany the sine qua non of its position with reference to the application of the Payne-Aldrich maximum.

While this is regarded by the administration as a very important consideration, it is one which perhaps might have been waived were it the only thing standing in the way of a satisfactory termination of negotiations.

As a political proposition the cattle question is a loaded one in this country, for with the popular feeling against the beef trust and the frenzy of the country over high prices, the government might well hesitate to assume the responsibility of a tariff war with Germany merely to provide another market for the products of the American live stock interests or cattle-raisers.

For this and other reasons the report that Secretary Knox has rejected all the propositions of the German government on the ground that they did not make satisfactory concessions to American meat is untrue. Although no official statements on this point are available, it seems apparent that Germany is trying to take advantage of the embarrassment of the United States in having too little time in which to negotiate for terms with countries like Germany, with which there has been a hitch.

Some months ago the tariff board unofficially expressed its doubts of being able to deal with all situations which might arise in the limited time between them and March 31, when the maximum rates will go into effect towards all countries not exempted by proclamation by the president. It was seriously proposed that congress should extend the limit, but no effort was made to obtain legislation, chiefly because of the reluctance of the leaders to reopen any phase of the tariff situation.

Now Germany has sent across a defiant ultimatum, and the state department finds itself in exactly the dilemma which had been predicted. It cannot yield on any demand made by Germany without incurring the criticism that it has been beaten in a diplomatic game, and it has no time to make a peaceful arrangement by negotiation. The German government faces the same difficulty as our own, in that it is unwilling to throw the tariff question into the reletag, where the agrarians control. These rich landholders are determined to supply Germany with their own meats at the highest prices they can get, and as the question is one of dollars and cents with them, it admits of very limited discussion.

The course of the American state department has been conciliatory and adopted with the express purpose of avoiding a tariff war if possible. It is evident that the German government has been forced into the position from which either one side must retreat ungraciously, or both sides must determine that a tariff war must ensue.

As negotiations with two other great countries—France and Canada—are also hanging fire, the seriousness of the situation may be appreciated. Germany is the second largest customer of the United States in the world, and Canada the largest for our manufactures.

Denial of Action Against Corporations Checks Decline in Stocks
New York, Jan. 26.—President Taft was forced to declare his attitude toward the large interests in the stock market to check a decline which had reached proportions of a panic. His denial of intention to take immediate or drastic action against corporations, especially steel, but is after the food trusts, restored the market, but not until nearly all the leading stocks had suffered a slump.

There was an enormous volume of stock hurried into the market and a heart-breaking melting of prices. Wall street saw the first semblance of panicky conditions since Nov. 21, 1907. The selling came from everywhere.

POSTAGE MUST BE PAID

Postoffice Department Puts Free Mail Ban on Seed Labels
Washington, Jan. 26.—A question having been raised concerning the right to transmit labels for seed packages through the mails under congressional frank, the law officer of the postoffice department has ruled that such labels are not public documents within the meaning of the law, and that, therefore, they cannot be mailed free of charge.

This appears to be a very simple ruling; but, as a matter of fact, it will affect a good many members of congress, who have been sending to postmasters in their districts seed labels with instructions to mail the seeds, also sent free in packages to those who desired them.

FOURTEEN HUNDRED WAR CASUALTIES

Regulars Get Worst of Battle With Nicaraguan Insurgents

Bluefields, Jan. 26.—Four hundred killed and wounded, was the price the insurgents paid for a victory over the Madrid government troops near Acayapa and the regulars lost over 1000, according to the report of General Chamorro, rebel commander.

Worked by Americans, the insurgents' machine guns covered the retreat of the rebels after they had sharply defeated General Vasquez, but had themselves suffered severely.

As the result of his defeat, Vasquez has demanded immediate reinforcements from Managua. According to information supplied by insurgent spies, Madrid has no troops in reserve, and his position as president is untenable.

HALL'S STORY DOUBTED

May Have Been Told to Escape Service in the Navy

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 26.—James E. Hall, self-confessed murderer of Anna Schumacher, reached here last night in charge of Sheriff Gillett, who appears to have some doubt about the sensational confession made by the man, who has recently been a naval prisoner at Portsmouth, N. H.

Hall has never concealed his dislike of the navy, from which he was dishonorably discharged Monday after his confession. If his story of the murder now proves to have been false, the civil authorities will have to release him, and the government, having discharged him from the service, can have no further claim on him and he will have made a novel escape from the duty he disliked.

Whether the cause of illness is acute poisoning or the effect of water getting into the lungs, physicians have not determined. The theory is entertained that Baines is suffering from ptomaine poisoning.

EDUCATION OF RANGERS

Pinchot Delares That Practice Was Not Unlawful

HE WILL JUSTIFY ACTION

Schools of Instruction Were Regarded as Part of Forestry System and Expenses of Employees of Service While Attending Meetings Were Paid Out of Government Fund—No Objection Until Pinchot Quit

Washington, Jan. 26.—Gifford Pinchot, the ousted United States forester, does not intend to let go unchallenged the assertion that he committed an unlawful act by having forest rangers take instructions at certain universities and colleges in the west. The ex-forester will, it is understood, make a statement within a few days, which, his friends say, will put the transaction before the public in an entirely new light.

Some of Pinchot's friends are authority for the statement that he made a wrongful use of the government funds in educating rangers, and they would not be surprised if he should reimburse the government out of his own pocket if it should be finally held that his action was unlawful. But his friends seem confident that he will be able to justify the action complained of.

It is pointed out that the instruction or information has gone out that the forest service picked up bright young men here and there and educated them for the forest service at various colleges and universities. No such thing was done, according to persons who are in position to know the facts.

Ever since the forest service was established, or at least since it became an institution of any consequence, it has been the practice to have the forest rangers of a particular state or forest district gather once a year for instructions, or for what might be called a general exchange of views and experiences. After the forest reserves were divided into six districts the plan of conducting a school of instruction for a few weeks each winter in each of the forest districts was adopted.

The experience of the bureau here in Washington was that while it was always possible to employ men for the ranger service, it was not always possible to get men who possessed the desired technical knowledge. So it was that for the good of the service, as Forester Pinchot saw it, these schools of instruction were established. They brought together in each district the supervisors, the technical men as well as the rangers, and the result was, according to persons who have been many years in the forest service, most beneficial.

The schools of instruction were held during the dull season, either late in the fall or during the winter. The bureau regarded the schools as a part of the system, and the traveling expenses, as well as the expenses of the rangers and other employees of the service while attending the meetings, were paid out of the governmental fund.

It so happened that colleges or universities in four of the six forest districts established in the cities in which the forest service had been in the habit of having its rangers meet once a year for instruction from the supervisors and technical men.

On investigation, so it is asserted, the forest service ascertained that it would be cheaper to have the rangers take instruction at these institutions of learning than to call together the old style meeting for instruction. And so it was that in four of these districts the plan of having the rangers in a short course of instruction was adopted. It is asserted that in no instance did the forestry service undertake to educate young men for the service in the sense of sending them to any college or university for a regular period of time.

Actual experience, so it is asserted, demonstrated that the plan was cheaper than the old one. It is asserted that the arrangement was approved by the law officers of the forestry service and had the approval of Secretary Wilson. Not until after Pinchot had been dismissed did anybody in the agricultural department object to the arrangement.

FLYER'S CREW KILLED

Engineer Perhaps Responsible For Locomotive Leaving the Track
St. Johnsville, N. Y., Jan. 26.—Two men were killed, another severely hurt and scores of passengers hurried from their berths to the floor, as the locomotive of the Twentieth Century Limited train on the New York Central railroad, flying eastward at sixty miles or more an hour, jumped the track a mile west of here, turned completely over and slid along for 300 feet. The rest of the train was jerked partly from the track, but remained upright.

The dead are John Scanlon, engineer, and Melvin J. Handville, fireman. William Hyde, a mail clerk, was the man injured.

The blame for the wreck is believed to have been a mistake of the engineer as to the rate of speed the train was running. The man is dead and there is no one who can explain it otherwise.

EIGHT HAVE DIPHTHERIA
Rest of Students on Training Ship Ranger Are Sent Home
Boston, Jan. 26.—Eight cases of diphtheria have been reported on the United States training ship Ranger. The rest of the 300 students have been sent to their homes. At present the ship is in quarantine off the North End park.

Last night one of the officers said: "It is impossible to say how the students contracted this sickness. Eight of the boys are at present confined to the hospital section of the boat, while the commander believed it advisable to send the rest of the men home, until these eight get well."

WHOLESALE DROPS THEIR HIGH PRICES
Nation-Wide Meat Boycott Is Having Its Effect

Chicago, Jan. 26.—Chicago is beginning to feel the effects of the agitation against the high price of meat, reductions in the cost of eggs, butter, potatoes, pork, beef and grain showing that the nation-wide boycott is bearing fruit.

The abstemious movement, it is conceded, is still in its infancy. Before its course is run it is believed that the public at large will save a vast sum owing to the reduced cost of living.

With official investigations started in New York and Ohio, and with many other states practically certain to take similar action, the general feeling here is that the anti-trust movement is not a flash in the pan, but that it will have a permanent effect for the public good.

HALL NOT YET FOUND
Sympathy For Missing Bank Treasurer Turns In Opposite Direction
Southbridge, Mass., Jan. 26.—No new clue as to the whereabouts of John A. Hall, alleged defaulting treasurer of the suspended Southbridge Savings bank, has reached the police.

The sympathy of the public, which has been drifting towards Hall in the belief that his alleged irregularities were not of a criminal character, shifted in the opposite direction when an official of the bank stated that the discrepancy in the accounts of the institution would reach a high figure.

The expert accountants are still examining the bank books, but no statement will be made as to the size of the shortage until the work is completed.

FERRON DECLARED INSANE
Slayer of Lowell Woman Committed to an Asylum For Life
Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 26.—Hemri Ferron of Lowell, aged 29, was given a life sentence in the Bridge-water asylum for the criminal insane, by Judge Bond. Ferron was charged with murder in the first degree, but was recently adjudged insane by a lunacy commission.

On July 1, 1909, at Lowell, he killed Flora Rivers in a tenement house with a knife. Ferron tried to give himself up to the Nashua, N. H., police without success, and later tried to drown himself, but was rescued. He then fled to Quebec, where he was captured.

SEINE RIVER IS STILL RISING

Will Be Higher Than Known For Over a Century

RESULTS ARE DEPLORABLE

Flood Victims Number More Than a Hundred Thousand, Many of the Poor Being Hopelessly Ruined—People Abandon Everything in Flooding From Submerged Villages—Situation Rapidly Becoming Worse

Paris, Jan. 26.—The river authorities this morning announced that the Seine would continue to rise until Thursday, and would exceed the high record of 1802.

The Lyons Railroad company sent out a notification that all service out of Paris has been suspended. The great bonded warehouses at Bercy appear to be doomed to destruction, involving an immense loss. The merchants are hurriedly removing what they can.

At Colombes the Seine threatens momentarily to mount the parapet and flood the populous working class suburb of Gennevilliers, six miles northwest of the center of Paris. This place has a population of about 7000.

Telegrams have been sent by the military authorities to the generals in the provinces to hurry pontoons, bedding and sappers to the points where the floods are most severe.

The minister of marine has ordered the authorities of the ports to dispatch lifeboats and crews to Paris. A steamboat pontoon broke from its moorings this morning and was swept against one of the arches of the Pont de l'Alma, completely obstructing the river at that point. It probably will have to be blown up.

Floods have now broken out in the south, the rivers Gers, Charante, Adour and Dordogne having overflowed their banks. Mierce storms are raging along the coast, filling the ports with shipping in distress.

At Conflans fourteen houses collapsed. The Aubie canal has burst, flooding St. Just and several other villages.

The victims of the flood number more than 100,000 and the monetary loss is incalculable. Thousands of poor are hopelessly ruined and are feeling to Paris.

The government by urgent measures has requisitioned army and navy material to house the sufferers, and boats for the rescue of the stricken as well as those imprisoned in the houses in the flood centers on all sides of Paris.

The region of foundation is steadily enlarging, and villages in scores of places are completely submerged, the people fleeing for their lives and abandoning everything.

In many cases the soldiers have been obliged to use force in compelling the inhabitants to evacuate their homes. Hundreds of them refused to leave, clamoring only for food and water.

In Paris the situation is rapidly becoming worse, the floods sparing neither the rich nor the poor. The flood is insidiously invading the compactly built area on either side of the winding Seine, undermining the residences and public buildings and forcing the evacuation of many houses. All the streets in one arrondissement in the southeastern section are running rivers.

Every hour helps to complete the tie-up of the telephone, telegraph and railroads. The subway and train services are diminishing, and in every section gas and electric lights are failing.

Paris is practically cut off south and west, and if the present conditions continue the question of food supplies will become menacing. The senate unanimously adopted an appropriation of $400,000 for national relief, and various societies are sending out calls for aid. The public fund for this purpose is swelling.

The entire population of Ivry-Sur-Seine and adjacent places, which are completely covered with water, are in a desperate state. Only the tops of the houses at Alfortville are visible, the water averaging twelve feet in the streets.

Taft Favors Two New States

STRIKE TROUBLE BREWING

Eight Hundred Operatives Already Out in Fall River Mills
Fall River, Mass., Jan. 26.—Seven hundred operatives in the textile plant of the Barnaby company were made idle by a strike of quilters, banniers and other tenders, which threw out 175 weavers and 20 loomfixers.

A general strike is threatened at the Borden plant, where 100 weavers in No. 2 mill went out.

The outlook is regarded as serious and the strike sentiment seems to pervade the ranks of the workers in all mills.

The banniers, quilters and slasher tenders demand a guarantee of $12 a week. The Barnaby plant weavers say they are satisfied with the wage scale, but demand better warp and filling material. They say that unless material is of better quality they cannot maintain speed at the looms.

FACING DIFFICULT TASK
British Liberals Cannot Be Independent of Laborites and Nationalists
London, Jan. 26.—The announcement of Unionist gains continues with unbroken regularity. Out of thirty-three results declared during Tuesday the opposition had nine gains, of which one was in Scotland and one in Ireland. Against these the Liberals were only able to get two gains in Scotland.

The elections will continue throughout the week, but the chances of the Unionists obtaining a majority, or of the Liberals securing enough seats to render them independent of the Laborites and Nationalists, have now disappeared, and it becomes a most interesting question as to how the Liberal government is going to meet the difficult task before it.

DEATH HULL STICKS AMID THE BREAKERS

Gresham Forced to Abandon the Henry B. Fiske

Boston, Jan. 26.—The tug Underwriter left port last night in response to a wireless call for help from the revenue cutter Gresham, which was owing the bulk of the Boston schooner Henry B. Fiske, made a derelict off Nantucket Saturday, to the nearest port.

The Gresham reported having made but forty miles in thirty hours, and that she was driven with her tow on Nantucket shoals, and that the schooner stuck amid the breakers and had to be abandoned last night.

The overturned hull is supposed to contain the bodies of some of the crew of eight men.

PERSIANS MASSACRED
At Least Fifty Killed Since Religious War Started at Bokhara
St. Petersburg, Jan. 26.—The religious conflicts at Bokhara between the Sunnites and Shiites, which have been going on for several days, were renewed Tuesday. The Sunnites declare their intention not to desist so long as a single official of Persian origin remains in office.

Even the arrival of a company of Russian cosacks from Samarkand proved insufficient to restore order. The massacre of Persians continues unchecked. At least fifty persons have been killed and many times that number wounded.

POLE HUNT UNDER THE SEA
German Inventor to Build a Submarine For That Purpose
Berlin, Jan. 26.—The old idea of reaching the North Pole by submarine, as was so graphically set forth in Jules Verne's story of "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," has been revived by the announcement that Dr. Anschütz Kemp, the inventor, has resolved to make the attempt.

It is said that he has been working for a decade upon the project, and that he will build a submarine of his own design. It will be capable, it is asserted, of remaining under water at a great depth for a long period.

MRS. GOULD MUST SETTLE
Jury Decides That She Is Responsible For Big Millinery Bill
New York, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Katharine C. Gould lost the suit for $3,185.00 brought against her by the Lichtenstein Millinery company. The jury was out thirty minutes.

The goods were ordered in 1906, when she was living apart from Howard Gould, but before she brought her suit for separation.

While waiting for the verdict Mrs. Gould announced that she would fight the suit of "Big" Hawley, who has sued for $2400 alleged to have been loaned her.

LET CANNON GO

The president had a kindly word for the speaker at the Dartmouth dinner in Washington last night. Said he: "Great must be the country when it can produce without college education such men as Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Jackson and Joseph C. Cannon."

The speaker's friends bristled up immediately at this, and are busy trying to turn it into such an endorsement as Aldrich got here in Boston as Taft started West on his tour last fall. It has just the weight that any pleasant speech at any alumni gathering should get. If it is so much so, Cannon and his friends, the best way they can capitalize it is to frame it about Uncle Joe's portrait and at the same time get one new set of jack-screws at work to ensure his resignation as speaker before June 1.—Boston Record.

It is unfortunate that men of Cannon's age do not see the handwriting on the wall. He should find some reason for retiring before the Republican party is split into seventeen parts. The country is demanding his retirement.

AMERICAN CORK

It is announced at Washington that cork oak is to be given a thorough trial on the national forests. The bureau of plant industry of the United States department of Agriculture has assigned 2,000 one-year seedlings of cork oak, now at a nursery at Chico, Cal., to be used by the forest service for experimental planting.

Fifteen hundred of these seedlings will be tried on the Santa Barbara National Forest and five hundred on the Monterey National Forest in southern California. Arrangements have already been made with the District Forester for carrying out the work, and the planting will be done as soon as possible. One hundred seedlings will also be sent to Prof. Gossell of the Forest School at Point Loma, Cal., for experimental use by him there.

In addition to these experiments in California, it is expected that 100 pounds of cork oak acorns will be secured from Catalonia, Spain, to be used for experimental purposes in District 6 next fall. Cork oaks of considerable size have already been raised in California, and it seems entirely probable that they can be planted quite extensively in that state as well as to some extent in Florida.

This is one of the illustrations of the usefulness of this government department to the citizens of the nation. It means the creation of a new means of livelihood.

Will the government please devise something equally good for the benefit of New England, California and Florida get a new industry. Let New England have a forest reserve.

BIRD'S EYE VIEWS

Negotiations are on foot for the purchase of Rattlesnake Island, in Lake Winnebago, and it is hoped that this may lead to the establishment ultimately of a state park reservation there. This island, situated some ten or a dozen miles from the mainland between Alton Bay and Lake Shore Park, is the largest island in the lake, in area being more than ten times that of Boston common. The promoters of the movement have had in mind the saving from destruction of the heavy forest growth that clothes the island's 500 acres of territory—a danger made imminent by an offer of $17,000 for the timber alone.

Asher Hinds, who wants to succeed Congressman Allen of Maine, is already mentioned as a possible successor to Cannon, on account of his familiarity with parliamentary rules. "If the rules are made right, there will be less trouble with the man," succinctly comments the Boston Herald.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

A Wish From Lebanon

We wish that all New Hampshire cities held their elections on the second Tuesday of March, the same as the town elections; and that the custom prevailed to referring important questions to the people of the state, to be voted upon that day. And the worst of all days for a city election is that of the semi-annual general election. The people have enough to think of on that day without giving local interests thought. We believe in a separate day for general, state and municipal elections, each. They properly have little relation to each other.—Lebanon Free Press.

Our Government Deficits

There are people in Washington who are talking about a $17,500,000 deficit in the postoffice department, but they never tell of the $100,000,000 deficit in the departments of the army and navy, of the deficit in the agricultural department, in the department of foreign relations or in the Congressional and Senatorial salary appropriations. They would have us think that the postoffice is not a department for the benefit of the people, as it certainly should be. There is no conceivable reason why the government should not appropriate $44,000,000 for the public good. What these wise men should do is to report how much the postoffice contributes towards its own maintenance, and speak of it with pride. When Congress gets ready to put an extra quietus on certain Congressmen, and the administration that urges Congress to curtail the service of the postoffice will be promptly curtailed.—Journal of Education.

Same in New Hampshire

New England statisticians are a little slow in discovering that Maine is no longer entitled to be known as the Pine Tree State. Twenty years ago the head of the Maine Central railroad, when asked where a consumptive could take refuge to get the full breath of the pines, answered that no pines had been left in Maine for a long time previous. Spruce there still is in some abundance, but it is fast falling before the ax of the lumbermen, just as fell the statelier evergreens.

Now that the pines are gone the cry is raised that they might have been saved in a large measure if in the earlier days of the onslaught upon our resources and intelligent ef-

The Income Tax Evils.

FEDERAL income tax finds its chief support among those who feel that it may be made an instrument for curbing unduly swollen fortunes as well as a source of revenue. While free from many of the objections which may be raised against the system of taxation by which the government is now supported, it has many evils either peculiarly its own or which it shares in common with the general property tax. It is inquisitorial, requiring citizens to impart to public officials as a matter of record, information, which each individual should be permitted to keep to himself. It puts a premium on perjury and misrepresentation. It would cause the conscientious and methodical to bear an undue share of public burdens. In older and more settled communities, as in Europe, where incomes are comparatively fixed, it may be calculated with a reasonable approach to accuracy. Here it would be difficult, if not impossible of calculation or enforcement. It would tend to create a new army of tax-eaters in the shape of federal officials, whose existence would fortify, regardless of its deserts, the party in power in the nation. It would be difficult to discriminate between earned and unearned incomes.

In the case of earned incomes, it would tend to make a man's efficiency the basis of his contribution to the support of the government, just as our present real estate tax, by taxing improvements, tends to penalize energy and development while letting sloth and speculation escape.

And even if the income tax were free from all these objections, it would still be noxious, in bringing about an unwarranted relation between the national government and private citizens. We vote for congressmen and presidential electors as the quota of our state's representation in the national government. Hence it seems to me that if we must contribute directly to the support of the national government, we should do so in the same manner, by contributing to our state's quota of the national expenses.

port toward conservation had been attempted. Scientific forestry is standard to protect, but slow to rebuild, and the majestic forests that gave Maine her fame can be known no more. With the full knowledge that a good name is rather to be chosen than riches, Maine deliberately suffered the sacrifice of the one for the other.—Omaha Bee.

LITERARY NOTES

February Success Magazine
The February number of "Success Magazine" opens with a remarkable series of letters entitled "The Things I Wrote to Her," by Richard Wightman. "Where Business, Which Rules Us All, Is Not Quite Wise—As Yet," is the third installment of Charles Edward Russell's series entitled "The Power Behind the Republic." There is a timely and authoritative article by Louis Brownlow, late of the Orient, entitled "Our Chance in China."

Insurgent West Getting Ready for War

Ray Stannard Baker contributes a remarkable article to the February American Magazine on the insurgent revolt in Congress. He has recently been West and thoroughly combed the country in an endeavor to get at the real feeling of the people in that section as regards the fight that some of their representatives in congress are waging. Mr. Baker's observations are particularly interesting as compared with the impressions he received in the same territory five years ago, when he was investigating the railroad situation.

PEERESS AUDUBON

Notable Trotting Mare Which Was Bred Here in Portsmouth

The following is copied from the American Horse Breeder:
Peeress Audubon (4) 2:29 1-4, by Indubon Boy 1:59 1-4, dam Peeress by Dexter Prime, 2nd dam, Peko 2:11 1-4 by Electioneer, is a brown mare standing about 15.2 and when her days of usefulness on the track are over she should prove a great brood mare, as she carries the very best of trotting blood in her veins, having 3 crosses of Electioneer and Alcyon in her blood, which strains have the best trotting produced stock in America.

Mr. Gatecomb, who owns her sire, Indubon Boy 1:59 1-4, says she is the making of a champion trotter, as she is the most wonderful trotter he has ever seen, as with very little work she learned to step a 2.00 minute gait on the trot. She is a mare of beautiful conformation and good enough to win blue ribbons in the show ring.

This mare was bred and raised by Jan. Mahoney, formerly manager of Jon. Frank Jones' trotting stock farm and sold by him to Hon. H. H. Peck of Waterbury, Conn., for a long price. She is now five years of age and, if nothing happens, will surely go to the barn next fall with a mark of 2:30 or better.

Dan, has a two year old filly, a relative of Peeress Audubon, 2:29 1-4, which he says at the same age, is better than she was.

ROBNETT AND AULD REPORT

in Technical Arrest at the Boston Navy Yard

Boston, Jan. 26.—Paymaster George P. Auld and Passed Assistant Surgeon Ausley H. Robnett of the navy reported at the Charlestown navy yard yesterday for "temporary duty aboard the receiving ship Wabash."

Immediately upon reporting to Capt. John C. Fremont, U. S. N., commandant of the navy yard, they were both placed under technical arrest and directed to report to Capt. James M. Helm, commanding officer of the Wabash preparatory to the convening of the naval court martial next Monday, before which they were both will appear in answer to specifications, and charges in general terms, of conduct unbecoming officers and disrespect to a superior officer in connection with the incidents and alleged affront to Dr. Edward S. Cowles of this city, a relative of Rear Admiral William S. Cowles, U. S. N., retired, and also related by marriage to ex-President Roosevelt.

Rev. Henry J. Kilbourne of the Mystic Side Congregational church, Everett, who lives on Perkins avenue, in Malden, an uncle of Miss Dorothy Hester, and at whose home she staid during her visit to Boston during the early winter, stated yesterday that he knew nothing of the picture episode, and furthermore that he did not know Dr. Cowles at all. He said he had heard nothing of the story until he had seen it in the newspapers.

The stories from Chicago state that Miss Hester is willing to be and will be a witness at the court proceedings next week.

No one at the navy yard believes that she or any other woman will be a witness at the hearing. The court proceedings will be, it is stated by persons fully familiar with naval court martial procedure, on what actually happened and not upon outside gossip or talk or possibly imaginary incidents which led up to the actual happenings at the navy yard or the sending of the alleged telephone message and letter.

CAMBRIDGE TO GET IT

Count Shoe Company of Lynn to Move Its Business

Lynn, Jan. 26.—It is stated that as the result of a strike a year ago last October in the factory of the Joseph Count shoe company, one of the largest shoe manufacturing firms in Lynn, doing business in one of the Realty blocks, Broad street, the firm is to move its business to Cambridge and will be ready to begin work here July 1.

The new factory will be situated at Carlton and Amherst streets and will cover about 45,000 feet of land. The lease of the present quarters of the company will expire the first of next January. The firm at the present time employs about 1500 hands.

Mr. Orville Harold, a young American tenor whom Mr. Oscar Hammerstein "discovered" in vaudeville, and who is to be sent abroad to receive a musical education, is to accompany Mme. Tetrazzini on a concert tour, during which she will visit nine cities as far west as Kansas City.

NEW RAILROAD MEN'S UNION

Is to Include all Station and Track Employees

Boston, Jan. 26.—A call has been issued by officers of several of the organizations of employees in the service of the Boston and Maine railroad for a meeting of representatives to consider a federated council of the organizations of the entire system, one similar to that of the federated council of the shop and mechanical trades organizations which has been in existence on the road for several years and which acts for all those trades as a body.

The plan for the new council, it is stated, is to include all the men of every line outside the direct train service men—the conductors, trainmen, engineers and firemen—and the trades which now belong to the shop and mechanic trades council.

No objection would be made to the conductors, trainmen, engineers and firemen joining, if they desired, but it is not expected that they will at present. The station men, telegraphers, signal and switchmen, the crossing men, baggage and freight handlers, building mechanics, maintenance of way men and clerks are expected to send representatives to the meeting to talk the matter over.

Id Superstition and Cold Facts From the Astronomers.

There is an old superstition which is hard, and that is that the position of the horns of the new moon tells what the weather will be! If the horns of the crescent are on the same level it will hold water, and hence it is a dry moon, but if it is tipped up when the water will run out, and it is Attractiveness of Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., has set an example which every American city may emulate—no example of what can be done after a city becomes great and an illustration of what should be done early in the history of a city that expects to become great. At a cost of many millions of dollars she has established an elaborate system of parks and parked boulevards which constitute perhaps the most attractive municipal improvement in the United States, and as a consequence Kansas City is the most desirable place of residence in this respect upon the continent.

TO DEFEND HATTIE LE BLANC

Boston, Jan. 26.—Attorney Melvin M. Johnson, a leading member of the Middlesex County bar, has been appointed senior counsel for Hattie Le Blanc, charged with killing Clarence F. Glover in his laundry at Waltham last November. The appointment was made by Judge Alken, on request of Nathan M. Tufts, who has acted as the girl's counsel, with his partner, Attorney Morton.

Mr. Tufts will continue in the case with Mr. Morton, but felt that he required assistance, as he is a member of the legislature and his duties in that body will take much of his time from his practice. In the circumstances he believed that the Le Blanc girl's case should not be permitted to suffer.

As yet there has been no intimation as to the time at which the girl will be brought to trial.

STOPPED RUNAWAY

Good Work of Marine Driver with a Land Craft

What came near being a very serious runaway occurred this morning on Pleasant street. The market wagon from the marine barracks was passing along near the police station when the shafts of the wagon dropped from their place and striking the legs of the horse, started him on a wild run down the street. The driver, one of the guard, stuck to his seat, and used all his strength on the reins to check the horse's speed. He succeeded in causing the animal to make a circle near the Elks' quarters where some person ran out from the sidewalk and grabbed the horse by the head. It certainly looked bad for the driver and the whole outfit for a few minutes.

TREMONT TEMPLE ON FIRE

Boston, Jan. 26.—Fire that raged furiously for a full half hour in the basement under Lorimer Hall threatened the destruction of Tremont Temple late last night.

Cuculis at the Parker House participated in the excitement when fire apparatus dashed up to the big tiled front structure at 11:10 o'clock and the firemen rushed lines of hose into the building.

The blaze, confined to rubbish piles and some of the woodwork in the basement was extinguished with a loss of but $50, yet there were many unusual incidents in connection with what transpired, both prior to and following the alarm that made comparison of notes interesting among the firemen after it was all over.

Earl Smith and Miss S. Merle
Wentworth Wed in R. I.

Congratulations and best wishes five months after the wedding day are certainly a little late, but nevertheless Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, two well known young people at the navy yard, are receiving them today.

The couple were united in marriage in September last and the ceremony occurred at Providence, performed by Rev. George W. Elmer of the Methodist church.

Following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Smith spent their honeymoon in the West where the groom formerly resided.

The bride was formerly Miss S. Merle Wentworth of Greenland, a popular young woman who enjoys the warm regards of a host of friends.

The groom is a native of Bannister, Mich., and a sergeant of the United States Marine Corps. For the past three years he has been on duty on the U. S. S. Southery, part of the line as ship's mail orderly.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside for a while in Kittery.

SHERMAN'S RETURN

The Sherman motion and vaudeville which made such a decided success upon their first appearance at Music Hall last Saturday afternoon and evening, will return to this city for the last three days of this week.

It is the object of the Sherman Motion Picture company to give the people of Portsmouth a first class motion picture and vaudeville show second to none in the country.

The Sherman Motion Picture company will open Thursday afternoon with a good two and one half hours show with nothing repeated. The motion pictures used by the Sherman Motion Picture Company are not only the latest, but the best of the American and European products put on the market, a careful inspection being made before the pictures are shown before the public. So the people of Portsmouth can rest assured that nothing but a clean, moral, up-to-date performance will be given.

MUSIC and NOISE

Are not synonymous terms. A Hurdy-Gurdy makes noise enough to be heard a quarter of a mile away. Would you buy one for your home? Some Pianos make a whole lot of noise but very little music. They remind you of the Hurdy-Gurdy.

EMERSON PIANOS

Possess a tone which is essentially musical, not noisy at all though powerful enough for the largest room. Let us show you the new models. Easy Terms if You wish.
